Akula.

Where Nuanu's cliffs are wildest,
Nigh where verdant Tantius looms;
Where the seasons are the mildest,
And the wild flower ever blooms:
There the mystic hand of Nature,
Using Beauty's choicest dye,
Wrought an Idol, peerless creature,
Vieing with the hosts on high.
Lovers sought her lowly dwelling,
But she laughed their proffers by,
Heedless as the streamlet, welling
Nigh her loved Lehua, nigh.
But the white-faced stranger's praises

Captivates with gay surprise,
And her throbbing heart amazes—
While the glowing sunset dies.

Ever, as the shades were creeping
O'er the calm and peaceful scene;
When the birds and flowers were sleeping,

Rare Akula could be seen
Tripping o'er toward the Pali,
With a foot and heart as light,
As the fairy of her valley,
Keeping tryst with stranger knight.

Now the dusky beauty's dreaming,
As the sun sinks low to rest,
With the golden fires a-gleaming
O'er the deep, dark ocean's breast;
And the fires of love are burning
In her deep, dark, long lashed eyes;
And she sighs for his returning—
"He will come when sunset dies."

Years ago she decked her lover,
With a heart as light as the lei;
Asking as he lent above her,
"Forget'st Akula, when away?"
"No, my Maunawili flower,
When the sun is sinking low,
My fond spirit at thy bower,
Still will watch its dying glow."

And aloha sweet are given,
And the parting kiss is ta'en,
And the loving pair are riven
Never more to meet again.
Still she sits and dreams and wishes
With a love more true than wise;
Sighing, as her boy she kisses,
"He will come when sunset dies."

JAMES WALLACE.

Hurrah, for the China!

The Hongkong Telegraph says in its latest issue:

"The China wins in a common cause" was the shout that went up heavenwards from the deck of the Pacific Mail Co.'s flyer, China, as she bounded over the bosom of the mighty deep. Yesterday afternoon (17th inst.) she gliding yacht-like through the Lyemum Pass slid up to her buoy and made fast. She had won another race, whipped all in sight and put up a record between Frisco and Hongkong via usual ports of call, doing the long journey in three days under one month. When she left Shanghai on Tuesday the French Mail liner, Caledonien was close on her heels, both of them being bound for Hongkong, and although Commodore Seabury, of the China, was unable to see anything after leaving Steep Island yet he and Chief Ferguson sent the "greyhound" through the Formosa Channel in great shape and at 4, yesterday morning "picked up" Lamook light, whence the course was set at full speed for these festive shores. The French mail was never seen en voyage and the weather was as dirty, thick and stormy as possible barring a roaring typhoon. Soundings with Thomson's patent sounding tube were constantly taken and by these it appears a course was followed right down the centre of Formosa Channel. What tactics were followed by the Frenchman is not known, but sure it is that Captain Seabury and his gallant and courteous officers, engineers and crew are to be heartily congratulated upon the accomplishment of a difficult task in fine style.

We understand that in the future the P. M. Co.'s steamers will remain twelve hours of "daylight" in Honolulu on each trip for the benefit of people using the standard old line instead of the Empress route.

Critical Situation in China.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 9.—John Barrett, formerly United States Minister to Siam, has returned here after visiting Peking and the principal Chinese ports. He says the situation in China is one of the most critical nature and that Manchuria is no longer Chinese but Russian territory. He asserts that Newchwang, the chief northern port for the movement of American products, is also practically Russian and is liable to be closed any day. The only permanent safeguard to the paramount American and British interests, Mr. Barrett says, is immediate and united action by the interested governments to defend the territory of the Chinese Empire, to force reforms in the Government, to prevent further cessions of ports and provinces and to insist upon the "open door" policy in all ports of China, including the spheres of influence claimed by Russia, Germany and France. Otherwise, Mr. Barrett contends, the impending partition of the Chinese Empire will seriously curtail the field of trade by disastrously affecting American and British influence in Asia.

Is That So?

United States Attorney-General Griggs has ruled that the Chinese exclusion act applies to Hawaii, and his decision has created consternation among the Chinese residents of that happy isle. The restriction law will be rigidly enforced there.—S. F. Call.

To the Soldiers.

The Boys in Blue complain that they have not been served with the "Eastern" beer which tickles their palates and makes them good-natured.

Pabst Milwaukee Beer on draft, is now served at a proper temperature in the Royal, Pacific and Cosmopolitan saloons, conducted by the elite of the employees of the Peacock Co.

The Milwaukee Beer on draft has proven a tonic which is daily helping the sensible soldiers who are patronizing the three great refreshment places, where the beer is so served that even prohibitionists from Milwaukee recommend it.

The Merchant's Exchange.

The latest quotations on the bulletin board of the Merchant's Exchange on the corner of King and Nuanu streets, quotes a big rush for Enterprise beer on draught, the arrival of a special cargo of Scotch whisky and a full supply of assorted liquors of the very best brands. The Merchant's Exchange will be kept open daily from 5:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m., during which hours "quotations" will be obtainable upon call.
